

Ramesh, Suresh and Ravi were brothers. Ramesh sold umbrellas, Ravi sold sweaters and Suresh sold ice-cream. Their mother was very worried because Suresh did not get any money during all seasons except summer, Ravi did not get any money other than in winter and Ramesh only got money in rainy. One day she went to her friend's house. She said to her friend "I am very worried right now." "Why is that?" asked her friend. "Ramesh only gets money in rainy; Suresh only gets money in summer and Ravi gets money only in winter, so I keep thinking of how they all manage in different seasons" she said. "Well then, why don't you think about how happy Ravi is in rainy and not about how Suresh and Ramesh are doing. Think about the good side of the problem" her friend replied. Their mother followed this and she was starting to reduce her worries.